

Top Orange High School and Middle School students recognized

Students from Orange High School and Orange Middle School were among the city's public school enrollees who were named Students of the Month for February.

The students were recognized during the Feb. 9 Board of Education meeting in the middle school.

- Ashley Ollivierrie was selected by the Orange High faculty as the school's representative. School officials said Ollivierrie hopes to become a teacher and work in the field of early childhood education. She also loves to dance, sing and act.

Ollivierrie's favorite subject in high school is mathematics. School officials said she maintains good grades and distinguishes herself with the faculty as an example of what the school's students can achieve.

- Amanda Timram is a student in the Visual Arts Small Learning Community in Orange Middle School. Officials said Timram consistently demonstrates her drive in every subject area. Her grades are exemplary, they said, and she always advances beyond what is required.

School officials called Timram a leader who is respectful and often assists others in achieving success. She demonstrates excellent citizenship, exhibits good values, principles, and ethics and transfers those ideals to others.
