

Mathletes in action

Photo Courtesy Orange School District

A staff member watches as students from one of Orange's Summer Academies work to solve a problem during the school district's TRYMathlon during late July at Bell Stadium. Approximately 200 students participated in a mathematics-based competition, some of which included an athletic component.