On Saturday March 26th, the North Carolina NCAA men's basketball began preparation to play against the Kentucky Wildcats in the East Regional Finals in Newark. Before then, they needed to relax their minds, and decided to go to an Italian Restaurant. Out of many in the county, they selected Bella Italia Restaurant in Orange. They were very pleased with their decision and the food.

Their record all time is 2,033-728. The 2,033 win total is second only to their East regional opponent, Kentucky, at 2,052. North Carolina won NCAA titles in 1957, 1982, 1993, 2005, and 2009. In the seven years under head coach Roy Williams, their record is 196-54.

Joe Holladay said, "We love to come here in Newark for the Basketball Tournament.

P.J. Carlisimo referred us to Bella Italia Restaurant. We are excited to enter in the Big East Final Tournament and whoever wins will go to Houston for the NCAA final four tournaments."

On Sunday March 27th, North Carolina fell short in its effort to reach the Final Four, losing a tough game to the Kentucky Wildcats 76-69 in the East Regional Finals in Newark. (See more pix on page 7)
